Dear Sir:

Thank you for the notification of the proposed works.

In my personal opinion, the extension of the ground floor roof line is out-of-keeping with the other properties and will set a new precedent in this area. However, we can only leave you as local planners to determine the suitability and compliance with rules.

I trust this will not lead to a two-storey extension (potentially) across the whole façade which is north facing. This will reduce direct sunlight to the front of our property, No 7, increasing the permanent shade and dampness, and result in additional maintenance requirements for us.

Given the change of working habits since the pandemic, are there limitations on noisy working allowing suitable core times when neighbours can work, including appropriate quiet times for work related telephone calls?

Regards,
