Reasons for comment:	- Design - Loss of General Amenity - Overdevelopment
Comments:	Why is does the building need to be so large? what is its intended use? i believe it is outside the domestic curtilage in agricultural land and not grouped with the main dwelling, i really don't want to see this used as additional garage block or parking due to its location. If its used as stables how is the waste to be disposed of and how does this affect the water neutrality? surely this will lead to more water usage, it it still to be a "storage unit" or a stable or a garage? also i don't want to see large flood lights on its exterior affecting the area.

Kind regards
