Categories: Consultations

Dear Steve,

No.2 is an unusual dwelling and does not reinforce the historic character of the Horsham Town conservation area. However, as an example of late twentieth century architecture it has a place in giving interest and depth to the overall character of the town. The proposals will not dilute the unique appearance of the dwelling and will reflect the original design intention. I am satisfied the proposals will not harm the character of the conservation area. Please carry on.

Regards,
Seán
