Comments:	Yet more building of houses in Billingshurst. No thought is put into this at all with the amount of amenities in Billingshurst for the amount of these houses. No schools, no surgery, etc The schools are full to busting and so is the surgery but nothing has been taken into consideration when this planning permission has been placed. It is disgusting that Horsham District Council feels it can build these houses but not think about the amenities. I hope that the planning permission is not approved as there are too many houses in Billingshurst as it is.

Kind regards
