Reasons for comment:

Comments:	I feel that the destruction of this environment and wildlife habitat is unnecessary and unacceptable. This is an opportunity to do the right thing and find alternative opportunities like recycling pre-used land and other derelict sites. I believe government guidance states that this type of development is harmful and inappropriate . The BBC has stated that there are nearly 700,000 empty homes in England alone. It is also important to state that the infrastructure does not support further development. There is more traffic, water supply is an issue and the loss of the Ifield golf course is so sad. Once this land is destroyed, it will be gone forever. Not the choice I would like to make.
