Importance: High

Hi Halima,

The Trees team have been consulted on the above application for erection of detached front garage with pitched roof, replacement of front boundary hedging with new fencing and gates and associated landscaping

I can confirm that the small ornamental cherry tree in the front boundary hedge is not of a size/form/condition that would warrant its consideration as an individual constraint on development of the property. No other trees would appear to be affected by the proposal.

The existing conifer hedge is not a visually attractive feature due to former management and plant condition. Re-landscaping of the boundary to give a soft hedge/tree frontage to the streetscene would be a longer term improvement, subject to other planning considerations.

Regards

Andy
