Reasons for comment:
Comments:	1.hard to condone or object to this especially as nowhere does it state why? It was my understanding from the signage that the car park was all part of the Gyll and the car park is hardly used as it is locked & secured unless their a specific event taking place. Question why ?? It would appear that under the category 'reason for comment ' that none of these are adversely effected. If however the car park is planned to be re-opened for general use then that might require a wider debate involving the businesses in the square. Question the perimeter of the car park was heavily cut back earlier this year's so once again why?

Kind regards
