Reasons for comment:	- Design - Loss of General Amenity
Comments:	While some of the proposed leisure activities sound fun, they are quite outdated. Who plays laser tag anymore? Do we really need a bowling alley? and there are already scape rooms in swan walk, there are other spaces they can expand to if they wanted to, as swam walk still has empty locations. So I'd suggest that it would be great to have a boardgame cafe where we can play all sorts of tabletop games, card games, ttrpgs and other more quiet forms of entertainment. Additionally, there's enough space there to have a bouldering centre, which would be a super healthy indoors activity that a lot of people would love to do. The closer place is like 20 minutes away by car, so this would be a great addition.

Kind regards
