To the Horsham District Planning Department,

I have known Stephanie Newell since 2016 as an equine client of my veterinary practice. She has gradually grown an interest in breeding horses and alpacas, and has successfully raised foals and crias as a result. She has found it difficult to attend to the needs of her growing stud, because she travels to and from Lime Kiln Farm, every day. To commit to further involvement at the farm, she needs to provide a 'duty of care' to her broodmares and female alpacas. I believe, from the veterinary perspective, that if she were allowed to dwell at the farm, these duties could be achieved.

I believe Stephanie to be a dutiful and caring owner who would add, positively, to the productiveness of this farm.

Sincerely,

Dr Alastair MacVicar BVM&S MRCVS
