Reasons for comment:	- Overdevelopment
Comments:	Horsham was a lovely market town but now it is over developed, including the surrounding area. All hours of the day are busy and there is an influx of people coming into town especially on weekends, making it a non pleasureable experience. The surrounding area has already seen an increase in number of houses built and increase in traffic. An extra 3000 homes will suffocate the area and what is one of the best areas to live in will become unbearable.

Kind regards
