Comments:	As a resident on Mulberry Fields development I am worried about the construction traffic coming into the estate and driving along Centenary Road for a number of reasons: 1) The estate is full of families and often children are out playing along the roads, riding bikes etc. with frequent construction traffic

my worry is the children's safety is at risk.

2) Centenary Road has just had extensive repairs completed on it. The road is not designed for construction traffic and therefore it is likely to get significantly damaged by the heavy construction vehicles and dirt carried throughout the development. Who will be liable to pay for repairs to the road afterwards? It seems unfair if Mulberry Fields residents are held accountable. Is an alternative route not possible by using the current emergency exit and then driving down the grass area in front of Heasman Place?

3) The additional noise and pollution not only from the construction traffic but also the greater than 100 new vehicles likely to be used by the Campsfield new residents. Mulberry fields is a very peaceful estate. The additional road usage from 82 new properties is going to change that at the detriment to the Mulberry Field residents.

I also have issues with the removal of the plantation trees. With the environment being so important surely the cutting down of any trees is criminal.
