Stance:	Customer objects to the Planning Application
Reasons for comment:	- Other
Comments:	We object to this application not only for the reason of failing to demonstrate an essential need but also as it would represent a precedent for the fields surrounding Pinkhurst Lane accessed via Pinkhurst Lane and those to the back of Doomsday Cottage and Ye Olde House accessed from the Five Oaks Road. Without the security of adherence to Planning Policy open countryside becomes vulnerable to development in an unsustainable manner. In addition following the publication of the NPPF 2026, DM8 makes clear retrospective applications are a material consideration and targets intentional unauthorised development, and establishes that deliberate flouting of planning control to build without permission before applying retrospectively counts heavily against an application.
