Reasons for comment:

Comments: I am a local equine business owner. As a farrier it is great to work with other local people rather than the giant corporate practices that seem to be taking over the whole industry. There needs to be smaller practices encouraged to survive and flourish rather than creating more hurdles for them.
Having another so close to me would be excellent allowing us to work together and create a better relationship for the welfare of the horses and giving our valued clients a better service.

Kind regards
