Hi Halima

For the photographs of the existing house – see attached (and on subsequent emails). All photos were taken on 27 April 25 – which can be confirmed by clicking on the EXIF data for each picture.

We can't provide detailed photographs of the neighbour's house as that is land we do not have control over or right to enter.

For general photographs of neighbouring houses / examples in the area, it is not possible to provide these – as most houses are set back from the road or obscured by boundary treatments. However, Google overhead views provide a good understanding. These are shown below, with the first image being the area that is covered by the subsequent more detailed photos, and then more detailed images are repeated underneath (running from east to west as you do down the page):

General view – with application site shown with yellow arrow:

Kind regards,
