Comments:	This very attractive old stable building is currently only used for storage. The plans show that the conversion of the stable to a one bedroom holiday let will breathe new life in to the building while staying true to the original character of the building. The proposed holiday lets location next to The Blue Ship public house will be a great asset to it without being intrusive. In this current climate where public houses are struggling to remain open the holiday let will hopefully bring customers to The Blue Ship and lessen the risk of yet another public house closing.

As a local person of longstanding I wholeheartedly support this application.

Kind regards
