Stance:	Customer objects to the Planning Application
Reasons for comment:	- Design - Loss of General Amenity - Trees and Landscaping
Comments:	Roof height: As the land slopes upwards, I see there is planned for a bungalow at the highest point, but the overall impact will spoil the appearance and amenity for the immediate area. If this is approved, there must surely be a ruling to restrict any increase in tis building height in the future It is presently such a lovely peaceful natural area where the present houses stop then nature starts and so good to see such a variety of birds, and bats & squirrels all enjoying the long-standing undeveloped area so close to town.

I worry that if this proposal is rejected there may instead be a little shanty town of temporary static caravans rolled onto the site. I would rather see houses than caravans

Kind regards
