Morning Andrew

With reference to the attached planning application for tree surgery, [redacted], our Tree Warden went to visit and I attach his report. As you can see, he would like to return again in a months' time and review when the tree is in leaf and he can tell the species, the home owner seemed agreeable with this. Would it, therefore, be possible to delay our response until he has had a chance to review the tree again. This may take us beyond the consultation and determination deadline.

I look forward to hearing from you.

With kind regards

Hi Belinda

I went to see Susan Moore this afternoon, and had quite a long chat with her. The tree in question is on the bank of Church Lane , actually outside her property fence. The tree is actually in a strategic visual spot in this conservation area.. Especially as up to several trees opposite may be felled due to bad ash dieback. I recently visited that property so I know the background. Also the identity of the species for CA/25/0024 is unknown, and as it is not yet in leaf it cannot be confirmed . I have said to Susan Moore that until the foliage appears I cannot give a straight appraisal for this application. She quite understood, and so I will return in about a month, survey properly., and then report back to you in the usual way.

Kind regards
