Hi [REDACTED]

I am grateful for your follow-up.

I'm also mystified at the bureaucracy of having been sent a reply which, in effect, tells me that the Planning department is not going to send a reply.

Please, by all means, publicise this series of emails, in full, including this one, as a further comment.

Hi Alice

It came to my attention today that there is a new consultation deadline for DC/25/2057.

There doesn't seem to be any clue as to any specific context for this (although I am well aware that it had been requested in several of the Representation Letters for various reasons).

- Do you have any specific decision history on this that you are able to share please?

- Are there any anticipated updates from consultees, the applicant or other stakeholders that you are aware of, or have requested.

Regards

Alice

I wonder if this was the intention.

Before, it was 3 Feb. It is now 6 Feb.

Given the significant volume of material accompanying the application, I am at a loss as to how such a short extension will provide meaningful additional opportunity to complete a full and proper review of material, and compose considered responses, for anyone other than people who work full time in a Planning or related role.

Individuals in the community who are working full time in other types of job will need to nibble away at the information, and conduct any followup actions, at evenings and (the 3) weekends to the revised date.

Please let me know what the procedure is to request for an extension to the end of Feb or thereabouts, which I think would signify an extension more in keeping with the volume of effort required for an ordinary member of the public to schedule time to review the materials around their daily life.

Regards

Hi Alice

Thank you for your update.

I see that it has been posted undated electronically to the portal (5 times, incidentally).

- Do you have an expected day that the paper notice will be posted near the site?
- Will the portal page timeline be updated to reflect the extension so anyone visiting there will have the deadline date for easy reference?

Hi

I write with reference to DC/25/2057 Land North of Little Slaughterford Chapel Road Barns Green West Sussex.

I have been monitoring for the publication of this application since August last year.

The last time I checked the Planning portal was Sunday evening, and I did not see the application listed in recent applications for Itchingfield Parish. It seems that the application webpage has only appeared during today, although the application Validation date was 23 Dec 2025.

I note also that the Consultation date is 2 Feb. Searching Sussex World / County Times, I was unable to see a notice pertaining to the this application. For a site of this size, I would have expected to see one posted.

My concern centres around the time remaining to submit comments regarding the application.

I note that this is (as I write), at 23:59 hrs on 12 Jan, a shade over 20 days.

Please could you confirm:

- when the application was posted to the planning portal?
- when and where was statutory notice posted?
- if there is currently any application for extension which may confer longer to enable proper evaluation of the application, including all 89 of it's current document attachments, before members of the public need to submit any comments they wish to share
- when the application is likely to see Recommendation/Committee stage, based on your experience of similar applications?

Regards
