Biodiversity net gain

Paragraph 13 of Schedule 7A of the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 sets out that every planning permission granted for the development of land in England shall be deemed to have been granted subject to the 'biodiversity gain condition' requiring development to achieve a net gain of 10% of biodiversity value.

This is subject to exemptions, an exemption applies in relation to planning permission for a development which is the subject of a householder application, within the meaning of article 2(1) of the Town and Country Planning (Development Management Procedure) (England) Order (2015)*.

Applicants for planning permission are required to make a statement as to whether they believe the biodiversity gain condition will apply if permission is granted, please confirm:

☒ It is my belief that if permission is granted for the development to which this application relates the biodiversity gain condition would not apply

*A 'householder application' means an application for planning permission for development for an existing dwellinghouse, or development within the curtilage of such a dwellinghouse for any purpose incidental to the enjoyment of the dwellinghouse which is not an application for change of use or an application to change the number of dwellings in a building.

Details of the pre-application advice received

Hi Jadranka ,

Thank you for sending the drawings through.

Having reviewed the proposed amendments, I do not consider that these would be suitable to be dealt with as a minor material amendment. The proposed increase in width by approximately 450mm would result in an increase in the approved floor area and therefore goes beyond what would typically be considered a minor amendment.

In addition, I note that the revised plans include a new window within the first-floor side elevation, which was not included within the approved scheme. This element would also require planning permission to be assessed.

Whilst the replacement of the existing timber windows with UPVC flush casement windows of a similar appearance is noted, the changes outlined above would require the submission of a new planning application rather than a minor material amendment.

I hope this helps,

Many thanks

Meg Bayliss

Authority Employee/Member

With respect to the Authority, is the applicant and/or agent one of the following:

- (a) a member of staff
- (b) an elected member
- (c) related to a member of staff
- (d) related to an elected member

It is an important principle of decision-making that the process is open and transparent.

For the purposes of this question, "related to" means related, by birth or otherwise, closely enough that a fair-minded and informed observer, having considered the facts, would conclude that there was bias on the part of the decision-maker in the Local Planning Authority.

Do any of the above statements apply?
