Stance:	Customer objects to the Planning Application
Reasons for comment:	- Other - Overdevelopment - Privacy Light and Noise - Trees and Landscaping
Comments:	This proposed development would be detrimental to the village and its residents: Increased noise and air pollution - during construction (noise and local air pollution from HGVs etc) and post construction with extra cars (360 based on national average of 2 cars per household), increasing local air pollution overall (when we should be decreasing further air pollution in the stark reality of the climate crisis). Increased traffic - linked to the above, London Road is already very busy at peak times as it is let alone with an extra 360 cars in the area. Congested is the only result, with all the extra noise and air pollution this will bring.

Loss of green land/greenbelt and natural habitat - removal of precious trees and green space is unacceptable. The area earmarked is a home for nature, ecosystems and wild animals, which have already experienced significant habitat shrinkage due to housing development and village expansion over the last 2 decades. Trees, flora and fauna absorb rain and bind the soil. Paving and developing over this landscape will lead to further flood risks and strain on an already squeezed water system from enhanced runoff, especially with seasonal storms and rainfall increasing year on year due to climate change. The area proposed is a vital carbon sink, essential in our battle against the climate crisis.

Strain on local area amenities and services - no strategy/commitments to expand local services to cope with an extra 500-750 people into Ashington. Where are the extra local medical/GP services? Will local school and nurseries expand to cope? Bellway simply want to make their money and move onto the next destructive project and ruination of another 'village'.

Based on the points above, this unnecessary overdevelopment must be reconsidered and I strongly urge Horsham District planning team and local councillors to reject the Bellway Homes proposal. Ashington is already having 74 extra homes on the Chanctonbury Nurseries site, a further 180 would be ruinous for the village and its residents.

Kind regards
