The Council objects to application DC/24/2002 as it is apparent from the scars to the lower trunk of these relatively young trees that both have been the subject of previous works with a number of lower limbs being removed to effectively raise the crown. Further examination shows workings to the tops of the trees to lower the crown. Therefore, the Council requests that, as the existing crown reduction appears to be relatively recent, that these preserved trees should be allowed a reprieve for a time to allow a more traditional oak shape to emerge. These are trees, not hedgerow plants, and need to be respected as such. We also think that any works of this nature considered for the future should be carried out before Christmas.
