Comments:	Exiting from Fryern Park onto Fryern Road is a difficult turning to manage safely in a car. To the left is a rise and a corner. To the right is a blind section of road quite close. With a car extra attention and double checking must be done to exit safely, I live at the other end of Fryern Park but exit most days. If there were to be four static caravan pitches and four touring caravans , how many vehicles would be there ? Minimum of four .

No maximum as the touring caravans will need four wheel drives .
Most families will have a car as well. The families will probably have work vehicles, as most travellers are working hard on construction, fencing gardening etc which require heavier vehicles. I don't think ,that once permission is granted, there will be a limit on numbers. The track is not a road maintained by the local council, our local association of members pays each year to repair.It is not suitable for wider and heavier vehicles .
Vehicles towing caravans or large trucks exiting Fryern park will be a hazard for traffic on Fryern road. I suggest a visit by a local planning officer and a test.

Kind regards
