Comments:

I am a nearby resident and wish to express my support for this planning application. The proposed dwelling is located immediately adjoining the existing built-up area of the village and, in my view, represents a logical and natural rounding-off of the settlement rather than encroachment into the wider countryside. As someone familiar with the area, I consider the scale and design of the proposal to be appropriate to its surroundings. A single detached house on this site would sit comfortably alongside existing development and would not appear out of character or intrusive in the landscape.

The development is modest in size and will not result in overdevelopment of the plot. It will make effective use of land that is already closely related to the village while maintaining the overall rural feel of the area.

I do not believe the proposal will give rise to any significant loss of privacy, outlook, or light for neighbouring properties, nor do I anticipate any meaningful increase in traffic or disturbance on local roads.

In addition, providing a new home within easy reach of village facilities will help support the sustainability and vitality of the local community, which is important for maintaining services in rural areas.

Overall, I believe this is a well-considered and appropriate proposal that will integrate successfully with the existing village edge and should be approved.
