HDC Conservation: No Objection, conditions recommended

The scheme looks to redesign the northern porch which would replace an element of the building which does not reflect the overall quality of the historic structure. It also includes changes to the fenestration on the rear elevation and alterations to the internal layout. The proposal also reconfigures the entrance to the southern elevation and the addition of rooflights. As discussed the proposed rooflights should be set within the spacing of any existing historic rafters. It would be considered that subject to the conditions outlined below the proposals would retain the buildings special interest.

At the pre app stage there was some reservation with regards to removing the infilled archway to access the new kitchen. Further investigation has since been undertaken and from the information submitted, and would not raise an objection. The plans also propose the addition of a log burner, which in principle is acceptable subject to details of any works that would be required to the existing chimney and flue – for example the installation of a kent cowl. It would be suggested that where partitions are to be removed a small area is investigated to determine whether there are any hidden features which have historic interest or whether they are modern inserts.

At first floor the scheme indicates a new bathroom in bedroom 5, with the removal of the ceiling – again would not raise an objection in principle subject to detailing of the new partitions, and the placement of drain and service runs. The same would be said of the redesigned master dressing area and bathroom.

With regards to the overpainting of the timbers, would not raise an objection subject to a condition to ensure that the work can be undertaken without causing harm.

HUMAN RIGHTS AND EQUALITY:

The application has been considered having regard to Article 1 of the First Protocol of the Human Rights Act 1998, which sets out a person's rights to the peaceful enjoyment of property and Article 8 of the same Act, which sets out their rights in respect to private and family life and for the home. Officers consider that the proposal would not be contrary to the provisions of the above Articles.

The application has also been considered in accordance with Horsham District Council's public sector equality duty, which seeks to prevent unlawful discrimination, to promote equality of opportunity and to foster good relations between people in a diverse community, in accordance with Section 149 of the Equality Act 2010. In this case, the proposal is not anticipated to have any potential impact from an equality perspective.

PLANNING ASSESSMENT

Paragraph 205 of the NPPF (2018) states that "when considering the impact of proposed development on the significance of a designated heritage asset, great weight should be given to the asset's conservation (and the more important the asset, the greater the weight should be)." Paragraph 206 continues to state that "any harm to, or loss of, the significance of a designated heritage asset (from its alterations or destruction, or for of development within its setting), should require clear and convincing justification."

Jackrells Farmhouse is Grade II listed. The listing refers to C18 or earlier. Two storeys. Four windows. Red brick and grey headers. Brick modillion eaves cornice. Horsham slab roof. Small gable in centre of first floor. Casement windows. The property has been extended over the years at the sides of the original central core of the house. Fenestration consists of red and blue brickwork in Flemish bond, timber framed casement windows and doors in a white paint finish under a Horsham stone gable pitched roof which runs north-south.

Listed Building Consent is sought for internal and external alterations. There are no proposed works to the front elevation or the original historic core of the property, except for the installation of a wood burning stove within the inglenook in the sitting room. The proposed alterations and additions are to the later additions to the property. The kitchen is proposed to be relocated to the existing northern lean-too extension, where the existing kitchen creates a dining room with window opened downwards affording links with the rear gardens. The existing wc is to form a shower and utility room.

Ground floor additions comprise of a new open timber frame porch with clay tiled roof which will merge into the existing catslide pitch removing the existing junction. This new porch will be concealed from the front elevation behind the existing single storey lean-to extension to the front.

At first floor level a new wc is proposed and the existing bathroom sub-divided to create a bathroom and dressing area creating a primary bedroom suite, without any interventions within the oldest part of the property. A separate wc is proposed to be formed using a portion of the footprint of Bedroom 5 (located within the modern C20th additions) with reversible stud partition walls. It is proposed to reinstate a chimney pot on to the south side of the property. It is also proposed to redecorate the existing black painted timber of the existing exposed beams throughout, by Back from Black with a finish to replicate the original exposed oak, rather than remove the black paint which could have resulted in a loss of patina of the beams.

Existing window openings to the rear elevation at ground floor level to be extended downwards to allow for French door sets from the proposed dining room and office room to lead directly into the rear garden. Other internal alterations to partition walls, ceilings, and door openings are proposed.

The application has been consulted with HDC Conservation, who has raised no objections to the proposal, subject to appropriate conditions requiring the submission of further details, and the method of works to roof lights and partitions.

The proposed would preserve the historic interest of the Grade II Listed Building, in accordance with development plan policies.
