Proposed Crown lift, Red lines show where branches will be removed to, Green lines show the where the removed branches currently are. Orange Line shows proposed new crown height. Branches on the Southern Aspect which cannot be seen within this photo but are below the orange line will also be lifted to meet the orange line.

Leaving the larger branch on the right side of the picture which intersects the orange line, conscious of not making a large wound directly on the stem
