REPRESENTATIONS AND CONSULTATIONS RESPONSES

Where consultation responses have been summarised, it should be noted that Officers have had consideration of the full comments received, which are available to view on the public file at www.horsham.gov.uk

Consultations:

HDC Design and Conservation (Initial Response): Objection

The proposed extension is not acceptable as it will harm the special interest of the listed building through a dilution of its traditional built form. The design of the extension is not reflective of, nor does it reinforce the vernacular character of the cottage. A crown flat roof is not a convincing roof form in trying to disguise what is an utilitarian design reminiscent of suburban domestic extensions. Any addition will need to reflect the vernacular roof form that would be expected in this context.

HDC Design and Conservation (Subsequent Response): No Objection

The redesigned extension is reflective of a traditional vernacular form expected in this context. Although it will be a conspicuous addition it will reinforce the character of the listed building.

HUMAN RIGHTS AND EQUALITY:

The application has been considered having regard to Article 1 of the First Protocol of the Human Rights Act 1998, which sets out a person's rights to the peaceful enjoyment of property and Article 8 of the same Act, which sets out their rights in respect to private and family life and for the home. Officers consider that the proposal would not be contrary to the provisions of the above Articles.

The application has also been considered in accordance with Horsham District Council's public sector equality duty, which seeks to prevent unlawful discrimination, to promote equality of opportunity and to foster good relations between people in a diverse community, in accordance with Section 149 of the Equality Act 2010. In this case, the proposal is not anticipated to have any potential impact from an equality perspective.

PLANNING ASSESSMENT

This application is for the erection of a single storey side extension at Little Tuckmans Farm, Bar Lane, Southwater, West Sussex. Little Tuckmans Farm is a Grade II Listed Building (indexed 1980, listed entry number: 1026857). Historic England details the property as “C17 or earlier cottage. Two storeys. Three windows. Ground floor red brick, above fishscale tiles. Steep tiled roof. Casement windows”. The included heritage statement goes on to detail that the dwelling was extended in the late 20th century to the north east. Though developed on from its original standing, the dwelling remains “fundamentally typical” of its time and is identifiable as such.

Listed Building Impact Assessment

Paragraph 205 of the NPPF (2018) states that "when considering the impact of proposed development on the significance of a designated heritage asset, great weight should be given to the asset's conservation (and the more important the asset, the greater the weight should be)." Paragraph 206 continues to state that "any harm to, or loss of, the significance of a designated heritage asset (from its alterations or destruction, or for of development within its setting), should require clear and convincing justification."

Policy 34 of the HDPF seeks to conserve, sustain and protect the cultural and heritage assets that are within the district. It ensures that development within conservation areas is consistent with the special character of buildings and areas of which they are located within. Areas and buildings that fall under conservation, Listed Building designations or are approximate to them will be protected from inappropriate development which will harm the character and setting of the area / building.

The proposed development is for erection of a single storey side extension at Little Tuckmans Farm. The proposed is a modest extension to the eastern side of the dwellinghouse which is created off the 20th century extension. The proposed sits within the ‘courtyard’ space of the dwelling and has been designed to not project beyond the existing dwelling. The proposed is 5.7m in length with a width of 3.4m. The proposal was redesigned following concerns raised by the HDC Design and Conservation Officer, and now incorporates a roof aspect that forms a sizable hipped roof. This is set down from the main ridge height of the dwelling and has been redesigned in such a way to be more reflective of the vernacular of the Listed Building.

Following consultation with Horsham District Council Conservation Department the proposed development at Little Tuckmans Farm, Bar Lane, Southwater, Grade II Listed Building (indexed 1980) would not harm the historic integrity of the dwelling or harm the setting of the area. Though the development has been noted as a conspicuous addition to the Listed Building by the conservation officer, it is not considered by the council that this would be of detrimental harm to the character / appearance to the dwelling.

The proposed would preserve the historic interest of the Listed Building, in accordance with development plan policies.
