The new drawings submitted by the applicant show 4 brick built dwellings ..NOT 4 day rooms. This is a complete change to what was originally asked for and questions whether a whole new application should be made stating 4 dwellings as well as the static caravans.?

These dwellings are almost 400 sq feet and could easily be converted into houses using "change of use".

This will also increase the residential use and therefore the vehicle usage on an already very busy 60mph road.

These are completely inappropriate for this site and planning should be refused.

Yours sincerely
