Meg

Thank you and I'll keep pushing the tree owners.

I visited the applicants recently and took the pictures below.

They are imposing trees and the canopies have extended now significantly over the garden toward the house.

The single storey section must be demolished because of subsidence.
The owners are elderly and this has adversely affected their health , particularly mental health.

The reason we have applied for a slightly enlarged single storey replacement is two fold, first for practical reasons so we don't have to dig out the foundations, and secondly to give them some added value having endured 3 years of stress and anxiety dealing with the builders of this house and their insurers.

I'll do my best to get the trees significantly reduced.

Kind regards.

Martin
