Dear Andy,
Thanks for the visit today - it was fascinating and extremely helpful. I've attached marked up photos of the trees and various areas we discussed, that we'd like to address, thanks and regards
William

Pollard the Willow Tree overhanging the Street, as it is resting on power lines (shown as marked)

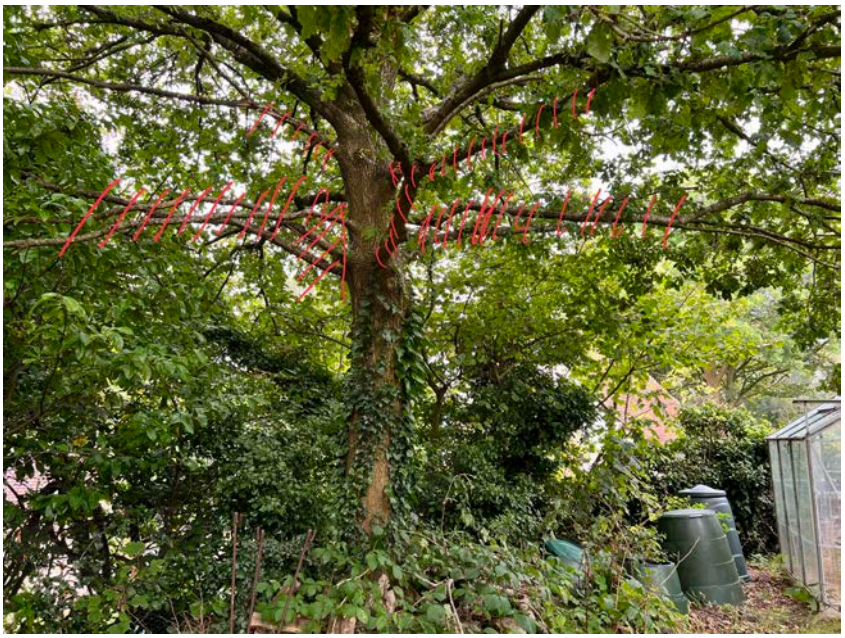

Reduce Leylandii in height by 4 metres, and reduce width back to the live growth, and reduce on Northern edge to give space to the cedar, and remove the silver birch leaning into the hedges.

Reduce copper beech in height, to reduce profile, and risk of being blown over into the house

Raise crown of small oak tree

Reduce foliage of trees and bushes on the bank, removing dead and dying limbs, reduce height to avoid power lines, and pollard the trees on the corner - as they have poor shape, low aesthetic and amenity value, and are leaning into the street.
