I really like the shower head, the flow is excellent and suits the water pressure in our house. It's also great if you are just washing hair being able to press a button and switch off the water flow.

Description

With ever increasing environmental issues it is essential that we all do our bit. However the demand for style and high quality products is ever present and the challenge we are all faced with is balancing both these factors. Water saving no longer means compromising on style, this innovative flow limiter is designed to restrict the flow of your shower to 6 litres per minute, so with the minimum of fuss you can create water efficient shower within minutes. These restrictors
