Nuthatches, which is not listed, and the site for the works are located around 16 metres from the listed property to its south referred to as Haynes.

The proposed works are to extend over an existing single storey rear living room to form a proposed bedroom with an en-suite and shower room that are both within the curtilage of the main house. The proposed extension will be clad with vertical wall tiling and roof tiling to match the existing house.

The proposal is approximately 13 metres from the boundary of the neighbouring listed property boundary line and is located such that it cannot be seen from the listed building and will have no negative impact on it or its curtilage.
