Comments:	Hornbrook Farm is a rural, green belt site that sits outside of Horsham's built up boundary and neighbours the long and uninterrupted 50 miles of High Weald AONB. By its very nature, the location is inappropriate for development. Very close to this development at Aimes Mill the river Arun regularly floods and this build would make that even worse as it's in close proximity to the same. Notwithstanding the foregoing the local infrastructure could not support a development of this size.

Kind regards
