The conclusion of the pre-planning was that, in summary, the proposed replacement roof and installation of solar panels are considered acceptable in design, amenity, and heritage terms. The works would use materials and a design approach that respect the character of the existing dwelling and the wider Warnham Conservation Area, resulting in no harm to the building's appearance or to important public views. The proposal would not give rise to any unacceptable impacts on neighbouring residential amenity. The conservation officer is satisfied that the panels will be discreetly positioned and that the revised roof covering will reinforce the traditional character of the area.
