Comments:	This proposal appears to offer a very low standard of living, with the proposed occupants benefitting from small living areas. I have concerns and questions over the lack of light and proposed ventilation in the habitat areas and an issue with the access point through what appears to be land they may not own? This is a consistently residential area that is uniformed in its style, should this be permitted then I deal the road and surrounding areas could follow suit.

A very careful decision needs to be made, and whilst I appreciate the locality, with limited parking options and it's immediate location this is simply an Opportunistic plan to charge London money next to Horsham's train station.

Kind regards
