Comments:	Good evening, the owner of the property in questions has carried out a fantastic renovation of what had become a very run down property. For years we have had the risk of dead fallings trees, over grown bushes needing to be cut back and issues with vermin. Finally we have light in our windows, it looks smart and and quite frankly, has improved our quality of life. The fence line being move over doesnt cause an issue as the strip of land was thin and now looks much better maintained. If some one has complained, they are absolutely bonkers. I fully support this planning being granted.

Kind regards
