Comments:	I am writing to comment on my support for the inclusion of a Guinness sign to the front of The King's Head Billingshurst. The whole exterior of the building is well kept, an asset to the High Street, very attractive and inviting. The owners do an awful lot of good for the community raising thousands for charities. In my opinion the Guinness sign adds an element of interest and captures the friendliness of the pub. When I travel I always find a Guinness sign is a welcome sign and as a female gives me confidence that it's a safe environment to enter. I can't explain why but I just think it captures the essence of a 'come on in' type of

pub. It's an inoffensive sign and with the loss of many businesses it would be a shame to see it removed.

Kind regards
