Stance:	Customer objects to the Planning Application
Reasons for comment:	- Design - Highway Access and Parking - Overdevelopment
Comments:	This is an end of terrace Victorian house in a built up area. The proposed extension and design seem to be out of proportion, and in my view represents overdevelopment of the site. Squeezing in 6 individual living units into the space will not provide suitable accommodation for the residents, especially with such limited communal spaces and in particular the kitchen. Parking and traffic is already very limited in the road and surrounding streets. This development would put further pressure on that and other infrastructure.

Kind regards
