Hi Kate,

Thank you for your email and providing us with opportunity to clarify these matter's.

Please see my responses to your queries below:

Existing CCTV

The existing CCTV unit is managed independently via the post office building within the precinct and is not directly accessible to my client. It provides more generalised surveillance across the wider precinct area but does not adequately cover all parts of my client's land, including key areas of the car park.

As my client has no control over this existing system, they are unable to access footage or records, nor can they make changes to its operation. The proposed new cameras are therefore intended to provide coverage specifically over land within my client's ownership and control, to enable effective site management.

Security and Safety

The contractor responsible for managing parking and enforcement on site has advised that incidents of anti-social behaviour and, on occasion, abusive behaviour have occurred. These incidents have made enforcement operatives feel unsafe and have impacted their ability to carry out their duties effectively. The Managing Director of the Parking Management company has also been abused on site and advised that over the management period some incidents have been reported to the police. They do not have the incident references to hand, however if required we can provide details or complaints/incidences.

The installation of improved surveillance is intended to deter such behaviour and ensure a safer working environment for those managing and maintaining the site.

We appreciate your awareness of potential member questions and are happy to work with you to ensure all necessary supporting information is in place.

Kind regards,

Kelly
