

Hi Shazia,

Thank you for letting me have sight of the additional/updated plans.

Yes, if minded to approve the application in order to have compliance control you will need to amend the recommended tree protection and AMS conditions of your decision so that they both also have specific reference to the additional TPP drawings.

If no drainage drawings are forthcoming, a pre-commencement condition in this respect is recommended to retain control over their installation positions and excavations/working space required.

Regards

Andy
